

Shatter

The sound of screams
Surround the stares
And shatter the silence
Of the people passing
Everyone turns to try
To take a glance
At the person ranting and raving
Presenting in the public forum
The pretentious persecution
Penetrating the world
Injustice, indecision, immoral
Acts attract the American people
And they follow in the footsteps
Of the foul forerunners
Of the fall of a race
Mankind mutilates, manipulates
It's way into obliteration
Obvious to overseers of
This tyrant triangle
Building, breaking bonding
The destruction to the
Devastation and demeaning
Their own decisions
As they dance on our hearts
